

ART

In this art lesson you will learn about Alberto Giacometti and look at some of his art works

You will complete some quick figure sketching, thinking about how we position our bodies, and how they can show our emotions. Then you will make your own sculpture using tin foil.

1) Go through the powerpoint

2) Take a piece of paper and fold it in half length-ways, and then into three width-ways, as in the photo below, so you end up with six rectangles.

Take a pen or pencil and in one of your rectangles you're going to draw a stick-figure person. You only have 30 seconds to draw it, so be quick.

In the next rectangle draw a stick-figure of a person who is running. Think about how your elbows and knees bend when you run, and try and capture that in your sketch. But again you only have 30 seconds to draw it.

In your third rectangle, you have 30 seconds to draw a stick-figure who is feeling sad.

In your fourth rectangle, you have 30 seconds to draw a stick-figure who is comforting the one who is feeling sad. How does your body look when you are being kind to someone else? 30 seconds to draw them – go!

In your fifth rectangle, you have 30 seconds to draw someone who is feeling happy. How does that look? Be quick – draw!

And then in your final rectangle, you have 30 seconds to draw someone doing anything you like. Your parent/ sibling/ friend is going to try and guess what your figure is doing. Ready? 30 seconds...go!

1) Watch the following YouTube video

Create your own foil sculpture (you don't need to go out with a family member as suggested in the video)

Take a picture of your tin foil sculpture to show your teachers!
